

Abstract

Bodily fluid markers of tissue hypoxia

- 5 The invention provides a method and kit for detecting tissue hypoxia, which is a clinical syndrome indicative of heart disease in a subject, by detecting an increased level of Oxygen Related Protein 150 (ORP150) in a bodily fluid sample from a subject.